PRO-CHOICE
PRO LBGTQ
SUPPORTS GUN SAFETY

A husband, father and dog father, Scott Gauss is running a write-in campaign to be the Democratic nominee for State Representative in the newly drawn 55th legislative district. Running for office was not a long-held goal but a necessity for Scott who believes Democrats deserve a choice in November. Scott is coming into this race not as a politician, but as a first-time candidate with the dedication and desire to be a new voice in Harrisburg.

A native of Southwestern Pennsylvania, Scott grew up in Brentwood, PA and attended St. Sylvester's church and grade school. Scott is a graduate of Brentwood high school and alumni of Indiana University of Pennsylvania where he earned a bachelor's degree in Business Management. As an adult, Scott continued his education and earned a master's degree from the University of Phoenix in San Diego, California.

Dedicated to giving his children a better life than he had after losing his father at the age of 12, Scott, much like his mother who took on various jobs to keep things going, worked hard to support his family spending many years in management at Coca-Cola Enterprises, Washington Inventory Service and later, at Boeing where he worked for over 20 years until retiring in 2020.

Scott lives in Murrysville with Michelle, his wife of 36 years, and their two dogs. Scott's greatest accomplishment is raising two wonderful daughters.

Scott is running to address and alter the current political climate and says, "we desperately need honesty and the ability to listen, even to those we do not agree with." "In Westmoreland County, one party controls practically all elected positions. Only one point of view is considered for most major decisions. The situation is especially frightening when the people in these positions appear to take direction from their national party leaders rather than local residents."

"I will not accept lies as facts. I will not use the office for financial gain. I will respectfully listen to all the people of this district."

"I ask that you support me for Representative in the General Assembly, 55th District."
